

9/11 heroes exposed to deadly toxins.

Rescuers, construction workers and clean-up crews suffer from a host of illnesses caused by tons of airborne toxins inhaled during the aftermath of the attacks of September 11. Thousands suffer from coughs, respiratory ailments, kidney and heart problems, even cancer.

Victims of the after effects of September 11 deserve to be compensated for their suffering, and assured that future medical problems are monitored and treated, especially for those without coverage. Please join us in our effort today.

If you were involved in the rescue or clean-up efforts related to the 9/11 attacks, call us now, it's not too late!
